

Approved Courses for the Hospitality Business International Requirement

Revised 10/5/09

One of the following INTERNATIONAL courses (minimum of 3 credits):

A language, study abroad course, or other international approved courses from the list below.

EC 340 (3) - Survey of International Economics

HB 460 (3) - International Lodging Development and Management

NOTE: IAH and ISS courses can be used to fulfill this requirement. However, the same course cannot be used to fulfill both the Integrative Studies Requirement and the International Requirement. Two separate courses are required.

AL 200 Cultural Difference and Study Abroad (3 credits)

Tools for understanding and interacting with individuals from different cultural backgrounds. Awareness of and sensitivity to cultural difference and the role of language study in understanding cultural difference. Preparation for continued study of and exposure to different cultures and languages through study abroad.

ANP 270 Women and Health: Anthropological and International Perspectives (3 credits)

Cross cultural perspectives on the health implications of differing life circumstances for women. Women as health-care consumers and providers. Health and women's life cycles.

EEP 260 World Food, Population and Poverty (3 credits)

Description and analysis of world food, population and poverty problems. Interrelationships between developed and developing countries.

GSAH 220 Global Interactions and Identities (3 credits)

Specific regions and their interactions across time. Historical and contemporary transformations of cultures and identities, in order to understand global conditions, concepts, and debates from the past and in the present.

GSAH 230 Values, Experience, and Difference in Global Contexts (3 credits)

Conflicting cultural systems. Differing norms and values. Ethics, values, judgments and responses as they are affected by interactions in global and local contexts.

GSAH 311 Crossing Boundaries/Changing Worlds (3 credits)

Causes and motives. Identities and relationships. Transformations and traditions of people moving across geographic boundaries at local, regional, and national levels. Effect on local and global conditions. Creative, philosophical, and historical explorations.

PLS 160 Introduction to International Relations (3 credits)

Dynamics of conflict and cooperation. Processes of foreign policy decision making. Major international economic issues. Basic future trends. Primary analytical approaches for studying world politics.

SOC 161 International Development and Change (3 credits)

Global issues of development and change. Population growth, poverty, structural inequalities, environmental degradation, social conflicts, social movements. Alternative development strategies and future perspectives.

SOC 216 Sex and Gender (3 credits)

Social structural and social psychological perspectives on gender. Issues related to gender inequality in selected institutions such as economy, family, education, and politics.

LIN 225 Language and Gender (3 credits)

Gender and language in societies around the world. Issues such as status, power and politeness in monolingual and multilingual societies. The role of gender in language development, language variation and language change.

Other courses may be added in the future.

Please consult with Ed Batayeh or Jan Van Lente if you have any additional questions regarding the international requirement. We can be reached at 232 Eppley Center or by calling 517-353-9211.